c. Holiday Lights In Military Family Housing: It's holiday time at Vandenberg, and many of our Military Family Housing residents like to decorate to the hilt. The decorations can be quite beautiful, but the nightly lighting causes a drain on our utilities budget. Even with the housing guidelines, it can still cost an extra $100 per house for the holiday season. Therefore, we all must observe a few energy conservation rules while showing our holiday spirit. Your safety is also of utmost importance. Exterior holiday lights may be installed any time after Thanksgiving and must be removed no later than 10 Jan 05. Please, for your own safety and to prevent damage, do not climb on roofs or place any decorations on roof areas. Use the proper UL electrical cords approved for outdoor lighting. Exterior lights may be turned on not earlier than 1700 and must be turned off not later than 2200 Sundays through Thursdays. On Friday and Saturday nights, lights may remain on until midnight. 'Tis the season to enjoy the decorations and lights, and we can all do so while conserving precious energy resources. Be safe, and enjoy the holidays! (30CES/CECP, 6-1929)

b. Computer Tip: Attaching labels to a control in Access: When a user clicks on the default label that's attached to a field control, Access automatically sets focus to that field. However, if you delete a control's label during the design process, you lose this neat feature. Fortunately you can easily attach a new label to the control. To do so, create the label, select it, and cut it from the form. Then, simply select the control that needs the label and paste.
